

Gallatin County

February 18, 2021

Dear Gallatin County Landowner,

Gallatin County has been working with FEMA, Montana DNRC, and neighboring counties to conduct new flood studies and update floodplain maps on the Madison and Jefferson Rivers. New floodplain maps are intended to provide more reliable and detailed information about flood-prone areas. You are receiving this mailing because proposed floodplain mapping changes could affect your property.

Visit this website to view draft maps and get more information about the new flood studies: www.floodplain.mt.gov/madison

You are invited to attend a virtual meeting (via Zoom) to get more information and learn how the proposed changes may affect your property. Content for each meeting will be tailored to the focus area.

	Tues. March 9 5:30-7pm	Wed. March 10 5:30-7pm
Focus Area:	Madison River	Jefferson River

Please register here to attend the virtual meeting: <http://bit.ly/MadJeffOH>

Meeting connection and other information also available here: www.floodplain.mt.gov/madison

For those without internet or ability to participate via Zoom, the virtual meetings will be available for in-person viewing at the locations shown below. Group meeting size will be limited by local health department rules and you must contact Sean O'Callaghan (see below) to reserve a spot:

Tues. March 9 Gallatin Conservation District 120 S. 5 th St., Suite B104 Manhattan	Wed. March 10 Gallatin Conservation District 120 S. 5 th St., Suite B104 Manhattan
--	--

Masks and social distancing required for in-person attendance

For more information, feel free to contact us directly:

Gallatin County

Sean O'Callaghan, Planning Director
sean.ocallaghan@gallatin.mt.gov
406.582.3130

Dept. of Natural Resources and Conservation (DNRC)

Nadene Wadsworth nadene.wadsworth@mt.gov 406.444.6732	Tiffany Lyden tlyden@mt.gov 406.444.0599
--	---